SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Additional information about the proposed consent decree.

This proposed consent decree would resolve a lawsuit alleging that the Administrator failed to perform a nondiscretionary duty to grant or deny, within 60 days of submission, an administrative petition to object to a CAA Title V permit issued by the Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment, Air Pollution Division, to CF&I Steel, d/b/a EVRAZ Rocky Mountain Steel, to operate its steelmaking facility in Pueblo, Colorado. Under the terms of the proposed consent decree, EPA agrees to respond to the petition by May 31, 2012, or within 30 days of the entry date of the consent decree by the court, whichever is later. In addition, the proposed consent decree provides that the United States agrees to pay $2,535.00 as full settlement of all claims for attorney's fees, costs, and expenses incurred in this lawsuit through the date of lodging the consent decree. The proposed consent decree also states that when EPA's obligations under Paragraphs 2 and 3, which include the aforementioned obligations to sign a response to the administrative petition by a certain date and to pay attorney fees and litigation costs, have been completed the case shall be terminated and dismissed with prejudice.

For a period of thirty (30) days following the date of publication of this notice, the Agency will accept written comments relating to the proposed consent decree from persons who were not named as parties or intervenors to the litigation in question. EPA or the Department of Justice may withdraw or withhold consent to the proposed consent decree if the comments disclose facts or considerations that indicate that such consent is inappropriate, improper, inadequate, or inconsistent with the requirements of the Act. Unless EPA or the Department of Justice determines that consent to this consent decree should be withdrawn, the terms of the consent decree will be affirmed.
