CIPSEA provides legal authority for the principal federal statistical agencies to protect the identifiability of information submitted under a pledge of confidentiality and collected for statistical purposes only. It provides strong protection that the reported information will be held in confidence and used only for statistical purposes. By limiting the use to statistical purposes, the EIA-877 survey data will not be used against such respondents in any nonstatistical government action (e.g., administrative, regulatory, or law enforcement) or for any other nonstatistical purpose.
