SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The National Disability Forum is an open forum hosted by Social Security that gives all interested stakeholders an opportunity to share their unique insights on topics of particular interest to SSA early in the rulemaking process. The activities under the National Disability Forum supplement, but do not replace, the rule-making process followed by SSA under the Administrative Procedure Act.

These Forums serve as listening sessions, and bring public awareness to disability and retirement policy among stakeholders. Through these forums, we gain insight into how our policy affects the disability and retirement communities we serve, and the potential impact our policies may have in the future.
