SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

A. GAO. GAO is an independent, non-partisan legislative branch agency that examines government activities and provides analyses, recommendations, and other assistance to help Congress in making sound oversight, policy, and funding decisions. As a legislative branch agency, GAO is not subject to the privacy and information security laws applicable to executive branch agencies, such as the Privacy Act of 1974 (Privacy Act), Federal Information Security Modernization Act of 2014 (FISMA), the E-Government Act of 2002 (E-Government Act), and Office of Management and Budget (OMB) and National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST) guidance issued under those laws. Nonetheless, it is GAO policy to conduct its activities, to the maximum extent practicable, in a manner consistent with the spirit of the laws and guidance generally applicable to the executive branch agencies. Accordingly, as a matter of policy, GAO has established an agency-wide privacy program. Notwithstanding the similarities between GAO’s privacy program and information security laws, regulations, or policies applicable to executive branch agencies, GAO’s application of, or compliance with, those laws, regulations, or policies shall not be interpreted as controlling legal authorities over GAO.

GAO’s regulations at 4 CFR part 83, Privacy Procedures for Personnel Records, provide the basis for this notice.

B. Human Capital System of Records. The Human Capital System of Records, managed by GAO’s Human Capital Office, is a series of systems comprised of information collected and maintained in the course of activities relating to hiring and separation management; pay, benefits, and performance management; and related talent management activities. The system of records includes GAO-operated systems which track employee performance reviews, compile GAO employee contact information, maintain GAO staff’s Federal employment information over the course of their career, and record time and attendance for GAO employees.

GAO Human Capital Management information is also maintained and managed in systems of records operated by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), the U.S. Department of the Treasury (Treasury) (hereafter shared service providers), and by contractors supporting these agencies. USDA’s National Finance Center (NFC) provides payroll processing-related services. Treasury operates an automated human resources system, HRConnect, to support human capital management activities in Treasury and other Federal agencies through cross-servicing agreements.

Authorized GAO employees access human capital information maintained in GAO systems and in systems maintained by GAO’s shared service providers and their contractors. Information is securely transmitted to and from GAO and its shared service providers and their contractors as necessary to support agreed-upon human capital management activities (e.g., employment application processing, recruiting, hiring, pay, promotions, employee awards processing, and compiling reports).

Privacy protections for GAO information maintained by contractors of shared service providers are provided under contracts between the shared service providers and their contractors. Privacy risks, and steps taken to mitigate such risks, associated with the use of information systems to collect, maintain, and disseminate this information have been evaluated in privacy impact assessments conducted by both GAO and the applicable shared service provider. The text of GAO’s human capital management system of records is set forth below.

For a description of the protections provided by USDA/NFC and Treasury, see the following: Treasury Privacy Act System of Records Notice, 81 FR 78266;
