I. Background

FDA is announcing the availability of a guidance for industry and FDA staff entitled “Principles of Premarket Pathways for Combination Products.” This guidance presents FDA’s current thinking on principles for premarket review of combination products. This guidance includes general, high-level information regarding what combination products are, coordination within FDA and interaction between FDA and sponsors regarding combination product regulation, and how combination products are reviewed by FDA before they are marketed. The guidance also includes recommendations on how to determine which type of premarket submissions may be appropriate for combination products, as well as illustrative examples.

Section 3038 of the Cures Act (Pub. L. 114–255), enacted in December 2016, substantially amended section 503(g) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (FD&C Act) (21 U.S.C. 353(g)), the principal section of the FD&C Act expressly addressing combination products. General themes of these amendments include enhancing clarity, predictability, efficiency, and consistency of premarket regulatory expectations for combination products, including by ensuring that Agency components and staff coordinate appropriately on premarket review of these products, and that Agency thinking is aligned in conducting these reviews. This guidance is part of FDA’s efforts to implement section 3038 of the Cures Act.
In the Federal Register of February 6, 2019 (84 FR 2236), FDA announced the availability of the draft guidance of the same title. FDA received comments and considered those comments as the guidance was finalized. The final guidance clarifies the guidance including its applicability across combination product types and additional detail regarding processes for interacting with the Agency.

This guidance is being issued consistent with FDA’s good guidance practices regulation (21 CFR 10.115). The guidance represents the current thinking of FDA on “Principles of Premarket Pathways for Combination Products.” It does not establish any rights for any person and is not binding on FDA or the public. You can use an alternative approach if it satisfies the requirements of the applicable statutes and regulations.
