Further, if an intervenor files comments or documents with the Commission relating to the merits of an issue that may affect the responsibilities of a particular resource agency, they must also serve a copy of the document on that resource agency.

l. Description of Request: During relicensing consultation with interested parties which began in 2020, the licensee determined that the cost of relicensing the project, as well as anticipated mitigation measures, would render the project uneconomic. Thus, the licensee proposes to surrender its license. The licensee proposes to remove all generating equipment, including the equipment diverging from the main penstocks including the turbine, generator, gate valve, and elbow for each unit. The electrical conduit in the powerhouse, the motor controllers, and the generation cables up to the interconnection point would also be removed. Surrender activities would be confined to the powerhouse. No changes to the dam, which is owned by Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission (WSSC), are proposed. The primary use of WSSC's dam and reservoir is to provide a water source to surrounding counties. No changes to this water supply are proposed as part of surrender. The licensee is not proposing any ground disturbing activities or any changes to the environment in the project area.
