Abstract of information available

A total of 42 cultural items from Coconino and Navajo Counties, Arizona have been requested for repatriation. These 42 unassociated funerary objects that are from five different accessions approved for repatriation consist of ceramics, beads, awls, miniatures, and a mortar. Between 1893 and 1901, twenty objects consisting of ceramics and a bead were removed by Mennonite missionary Heinrich Voth from several sites on the Hopi Reservation. George Dorsey removed one mortar from the Hopi site of Awatovi in 1899. Three objects consisting of two awls and a string of shell and stone beads were excavated by Jesse A. Burt in 1899–1900 from Homolovi I and II. During two separate excavations, Charles Owen removed eighteen objects from several sites on the Hopi reservation in 1901. Based on consultation, academic research, and Museum records, Homolovi I and II are affiliated with the Hopi Tribe of Arizona and the Zuni Tribe of the Zuni Reservation, New Mexico. There is no known presence of any potentially hazardous substances used to treat any of the cultural items.

Determinations

The Field Museum has determined that:
