Title: Recording of Aircraft Conveyances and Security Documents

Form Numbers: AC Form 8050-98 and AC Form 8050-41

Type of Review: Revision and renewal of an information collection

Background: Title 49 U. S. C. 44108 provides for establishing and maintaining a system for the recording of security conveyances affecting an interest in U.S. civil aircraft and eligible engines, propellers, and spare part locations, and for recording releases of those conveyances. Federal Aviation Regulation 14 CFR Part 49 establishes procedures for implementation of 49 U. S. C. 44108 and describes what information must be contained in a security conveyance and release of that conveyance for the FAA to record and release a security interest.

A security holder submits a security conveyance against aircraft and eligible engines, propellers, and/or spare part locations to the Registry for recording. The Registry provides the AC Form 8050-98 for security holders to use to show their security interest. The security holder may use their own form providing it meets recording requirements. The Registry records the security conveyance and sends an AC Form 8050-41, Notice of Recordation – Aircraft Security Conveyance, to the security holder. When the security conveyance is ready for release, the lienholder completes Part II – Release at the bottom of the form and returns it to the Registry as official notification that the debt has been satisfied. The security holder may also use their own form to release the security conveyance.

The AC Form 8050-98, Security Agreement, was moved from OMB collection 2120-0042 – Aircraft Registration since it is not a form required for aircraft registration.

Respondents: 25,216 security conveyances and 18,252 release notifications were filed in FY2024

Frequency: On occasion.

Estimated Average Burden per Response: 45 minutes and 15 minutes

Estimated Total Annual Burden: 23,475 hours.

Issued in Oklahoma City, OK on May 30, 2025.
