Abstract: The Service’s “Bison Donations Transfer Protocol” (protocol) describes the process for the donation of the available surplus bison from the Service to eligible organizations, Tribes, or intertribal organizations as outlined in regulations at 50 CFR 30.1, as well as in Service Manual chapters 701 FW 5 and 701 FW 8. Surplus bison are offspring that exceed the ecological carrying capacity of the Service bison metapopulation. The primary purposes of donating these bison are to support conservation of the species as native North American wildlife and to assist in the restoration of bison herds on conservation partner lands, with special emphasis on restoring conservation herds to Tribal lands. Our authorities governing the Protocol include:

- National Wildlife Refuge System Administration Act (16 U.S.C. 668dd and 668ee, as amended);
- American Indian Religious Freedom Act (Public Law 95-341);
- Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (Public Law 93-638, as amended);
- Surplus Range Animals (50 CFR 30.1);
- Disposition of Surplus Range Animals (50 CFR 30.2);

- Native American Policy of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (510 FW 1);
- Fenced Animal Management policy (701 FW 8); and
- Collections, Donations, and Disposals policy (701 FW 5).

In 2020, the U.S. Department of the Interior (DOI) Bison Working Group published the Department of the Interior Bison Conservation Initiative 2020 (initiative), recognizing bison as a wildlife species in need of conservation. Consistent with this initiative, Service policy identifies the ecological and cultural values of bison as nationally and/or historically significant animals.

The Bison Conservation Genetics Workshop: Report and Recommendations (2010 report) identifies DOI bison herds as a valuable source with which to start new conservation herds proposed by other Federal, State/provincial, or Tribal governments. The DOI Bison Report: Looking Forward (2014 report) acknowledges the challenges to achieving bison restoration on DOI lands and emphasizes the importance of partnerships for achieving bison conservation and ecological restoration. Both the 2010 and 2014 reports also identify the potential for bison herds maintained by Indian Tribes to contribute to species conservation, and the Service recognizes that such bison may also support Tribal cultural rights and practices.

Periodic reduction in the size of Service bison herds is required to remain within the ecological carrying capacity of Service lands. Live bison capture and removal assist in the restoration of bison to Tribal lands, support the efforts of States and other conservation organizations, and ensure that the ecological needs of other species are met on refuges of limited size. To support maximum conservation of genetic diversity within and across Service herds, selection of young bison available for donation is coordinated across all refuges. From the surplus bison made available for donation from refuges, requests will be prioritized for bison restoration and conservation purposes.

We use Form 3-2555, “Bison Donations Request Form,” to request surplus bison.

Respondents will generally be from Tribal governments and intertribal organizations, although we do expect to receive a small number of requests from States and private sector organizations (nonprofit and educational/research organizations). The request form provides details governing the protocol and collects the following information:

- Name of requesting Tribe, intertribal organization, State, or private sector organization.
- Documentation that the proposed project or program meets the definition of a conservation herd.
- Demonstration of the educational contribution of the donation to increasing public knowledge and appreciation of the wildlife values of bison (for educational and research organizations only).
- Total number (or percentage of total donation request) of bison and purpose of request:
 - Establish a free-ranging conservation herd;
 - Supplement or augment a free-ranging conservation herd;
 - Establish a self-sustaining herd for non-conservation purposes;
 - Supplement or augment a self-sustaining herd for non-conservation purposes;
 - Public display, educational purposes, and/or research;
 - Tribal spiritual or cultural purposes; or
 - A description if “Other” purpose.
- Signature of requesting Tribe, intertribal organization, State, or private sector organization official.

In addition to the completion of Form 3-2555, recipients of donated bison must inform the Service of the destination State for donated bison no fewer than 30 days prior to a scheduled bison capture operation, to allow the Service time to meet interstate transport regulatory testing requirements. Recipients of donated bison must also inform the Service of the physical destination address for donated bison no fewer than 10 days prior to scheduled bison loadout, to facilitate timely completion of required interstate veterinary permit applications and veterinary inspection certificates.

The public may request a copy of Form 3-2555 by sending a request to the Service Information Collection Clearance Officer (see ADDRESSES, above).
