Abstract of information available

A total of 14 trays of cultural items (approx. 46,656 objects) have been requested for repatriation. The 14 trays of unassociated funerary objects consist of stone artifacts (bowls, pestles, beads, etc.), asphaltum, projectile points, fish hooks, shell beads and bead fragments (which account for the large number of objects), abalone spangles and ornaments, unsorted midden material, detritus, gravers, drills, mammal bones (including fox) and teeth (including whale), bird bones, tarring pebbles, donut stones, red ochre, skirt weights, fish bones (including shark centra), basketry fragments, asphaltum basket impressions, seagrass cordage and matting fragments, eelgrass cordage, sinkers, net weights, bone awls, whale vertebra bowl, mortar fragments/groundstone, bone tools, etc. These items were excavated from cemetery sites on Santa Rosa Island at Skull Gulch (SRI-2A and SRI-2B) by Phil Orr over several seasons of archaeological fieldwork between 1947 and 1951.

Determinations

The Santa Barbara Museum of Natural History has determined that:

- The 14 trays of unassociated funerary objects described in this notice were reasonably believed to have been placed intentionally with or near human remains, and are connected, either at the time of death or later as part of the death rite or ceremony of a Native American culture according to the Native American traditional knowledge of a lineal descendant, Indian Tribe, or Native Hawaiian organization. The unassociated funerary objects have been identified by a preponderance of the evidence as related to human remains, specific individuals, or families, or removed from a specific burial site or burial area of an individual or individuals with cultural affiliation to an Indian Tribe or Native Hawaiian organization.
- There is a reasonable connection between the cultural items described in this notice and the Santa Ynez Band of Chumash Mission Indians of the Santa Ynez Reservation, California.

Requests for Repatriation

Additional, written requests for repatriation of the cultural items in this notice must be sent to the authorized representative identified in this notice under ADDRESSES. Requests for repatriation may be submitted by any lineal descendant, Indian Tribe, or Native Hawaiian organization not identified in this notice who shows, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the requestor is a lineal descendant or a culturally affiliated Indian Tribe or Native Hawaiian organization.
