Background: This is the sixth public event the Commission will hold during its 2026 reporting cycle. The event will bring together senior executives from across industry and leading experts to discuss China's AI chips and the associated tech stack, the export potential of Chinese AI technologies, current chokepoints and potential innovations that could change the nature of AI competition, and implications for the United States and its allies. The event will be comprised of two roundtable sessions. The first session will examine China's progress in indigenizing the AI tech stack, from chipmaking equipment to data centers and supporting infrastructure. The second session will focus on ways that China and the U.S. are working to innovate at the cutting-edge to ensure that their respective AI tech stacks are the most competitive globally.

The event will be co-chaired by Commissioner Leland Miller and Commissioner Chris Slevin. Any interested party may file a written statement by June 4, 2026 by transmitting it to the contact above.
