National Institute of Food and Agriculture

Title: Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR)/Small Business Technology Transfer (STTR) Programs to Request a New Lifecycle Certification Form.

OMB Control Number: 0524-0052.

Summary of Collection: The USDA SBIR/STTR Programs are administered by the National Institute of Food and Agriculture (NIFA) of the USDA. NIFA exercises overall oversight for the policies and procedures governing SBIR/STTR grants awarded to the U.S. small business community. In 1982, the Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) Grants Program (Pub. L. 97-219, 96 stat. 217), 15 U.S.C. 638, was authorized. In 1992, the Small Business Technology Transfer (STTR) Grants Program was authorized by the Small Business Research and Development Enhancement Act (15 U.S.C. 638). In 2026, the Small Business Innovation and Economic Security Act reauthorized the SBIR and STTR programs through September 30, 2031.

Need and Use of the Information: USDA uses the SBIR/STTR Funding Agreement Certification form to ensure SBCs meet specific eligibility requirements for a Small Business Innovation and Research or Small Business Technology Transfer award. The form asks applicants to certify a series of ten statements in order to ensure the grantee is complying with specific program requirements during the life of the funding agreement. If SBC is majority-owned by venture capital companies, hedge funds, or private equity firms, then they will be required to fill out an eight-question form in addition to the SBIR/STTR Funding Agreement Certification. The small business concern may be required to update the SBIR/STTR Funding Agreement Certification form to assure continued eligibility and compliance when changes in the SBC apply.
